DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Specification

2. The lengthy specification has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 1-3, 6-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C 102(e) as being anticipated by Nakamura et al. , US Patent Application Publication No. 2004/0095528 A1.

The above claims are anticipated by Nakamura et al. figures 1A-2 and 11A-11C, which disclose an electrooptic device (liquid crystal display LCD) comprising:

. a plurality of pixels (pixel regions), each including an electrooptic material (liquid crystal layer);

Art Unit: 2871

. a transfective layer (pixel electrode PXL) having a reflecting section (R) and a transmitting section (T);

. a colored layer (CFT/CFR) superimposed on the transfective layer;

. a (two-dimensional shaped) opening (CFW) as claimed.

It should be noted that the method of for manufacturing the device is merely a list of forming each component and each component must be formed to make the device; therefore, the method of for manufacturing would be inherent to the device.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 4-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Nakamura et al., US Patent Application Publication No. 2004/0095528 A1.

Regarding claims 4-5, Nakamura et al. disclose the claimed invention as described above except for a polygonal shaped opening. It would have been an obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to employ a polygonal two-dimensional shape opening in the Nakamura color filter since the examiner takes Office Notice of the equivalence of the polygonal opening and the opening having no corner (e.g. circular opening) for their use in the LCD art and the selection of any of these known equivalents for the purposes of color adjusting would be within the level of ordinary skill in the art.

Art Unit: 2871

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
